PENSION SEMINARS 2022

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

The enactment of various provincial health restrictions designed to reduce the spread of the Covid-19 pandemic have prevented your IAMAW Air Canada Pension Committee from holding any in-person pension seminars during most of 2020 and all of 2021.

The last in-person pension seminars were held in YYC and YEG in January 2020. Restrictions on the size of indoor social gatherings and ever-changing requirements for attendance have precluded your Pension Committee and District Lodge 140 from holding in-person pension seminars at any base since the start of the Covid pandemic.

As we move into 2022, it is expected that the current provincial Covid restrictions across the country will ease over the next couple of months. The Pension Committee will be working with all of our Air Canada affiliated Local Lodges in the next few months to produce a schedule for in-person pension seminars. Seminars will be scheduled for both the legacy Defined Benefit pension plan and the Multi-employer Pension Plan (MEPP).

At this time, it is still not possible to confirm seminar dates for any Local Lodge or city. However, members are asked to monitor their Local Lodge websites and bulletin boards as we move later into the spring of 2022. Pension Seminar notices will be posted (typically one month in advance) in each Local Lodge when we are able to schedule them.

When the pension seminar notices are posted, members who wish to attend will be asked to register with their Local Lodges for the purposes of seminar attendance planning.

Your Pension Committee and District Lodge 140 would like to thank all of our members for your patience and understanding with this situation.

In solidarity,

Christopher Hiscock
Chairman
Air Canada IAMAW Pension Committee
